

Here are some crafty ideas I found online, mostly from Pinterest.:

Adorable felted baby elf booties !

Super Hero Ornaments

Make a terrarium out of picture frames.

To make this sphere of succulents, wire 2 hanging baskets with cocoa liners, putting cactus dirt in the center. Poke holes in the liner, inserting a succulent plant in each. Before long, the whole circle will be covered with plants.

Gorgeous wreath made with dried hydrangeas.

If you missed the sign-up days for the Rockwell Craft Fair, please contact Jan O'Brien at 377-8111 or talk to her at our meeting. Tables are $20 each this year and Jan always has tags with her for purchase.

The dates for this year are Thursday November 6th thru Saturday November 8th.

The show has always been the first weekend of November, but as we found out last year, if it's too early, Halloween gets included and that's not a good night for craft show business ! So, this year they went to the following weekend to avoid that issue.

There are still some open tables, so if you, or anyone that you know is thinking about it, give Jan a call. It is open to Current Rockwell Employees, their spouses, Retired Rockwell Employees, and their spouses. No vendor items (like Pampered Chef or Tupperware), and no selling other people's items.
